Jason,

When we spoke on the phone the other day, I'm not sure I left you with the right impression. You concluded, if I recall correctly, since the amended wording went through me, Mr. Miska was not liable for a criminal act. I am not sure whether this is a proper conclusion or not. Such is your decision.

My point is: whether or not the offensive language came through me or directly from Mr. Miska, the COE did offer for signature to Mr. Albright a Modification which included language changed from that previously agreed-to by myself and Mr. Albright, without giving him any indication said language was changed. I did this act, unknowingly, because of Mr. Miska's admitted tampering with/changing contract language outside of his authority to change.

Whether or not this statement meets your criteria is again, your purview.

Thank you.

Sincerely,

David Ebner
